Majority of Laboring Men
Are Not Foes
of Eighteenth Amendment

CONSIDERABLE publicity has been given to the action taken by the American Federation of Labor in putting labor's stamp of approval upon the booze traffic.

This action was taken at the convention recently held in Portland, the resolution being adopted only after a divided viva voce vote. It recommended permitting the manufacture and sale of "wholesome" beer and light wines, and condemned "irrational efforts" to suppress the liquor traffic.

It is folly to presume that this action of the Portland convention could be taken to mean that the laboring classes are not in favor of prohibition.

WITHOUT the labor sentiment the Volstead act would never have become a law. The fact that all but four states have passed laws to aid in the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment proves this contention.

Labor recognizes that the liquor interests of this country have always been a foe of the laboring man. While posing as a friend their only interest was the extracting of money from him.

A PROMINENT labor leader of Denver, Colo., covered the following
point in his speech of welcome, stating, "In Denver we had 108 unions meeting in 23 different places, mostly above saunas. We could not get together, because the liquor interests didn't want to see us bunched in a hall or building of our own. But when the state went dry we were able to put our plans over and now we have a splendid labor temple,
owned and controlled by labor."
The majority of the laboring classes agree with the statement made by one of their leaders, John Mitchell: "Turn down a saloon and in its place is built a factory."

WALTON WANTS TO REGAIN GOVERNORSHIP

Associated Concrete Industries Men Have 'Solid' Time in Glendale

CONCRETE, NAUGHT BUT CONCRETE, LAST NIGHT

Associated Concrete Industries Meet in Glendale

Glendale may be proud of the fact that the banquet held last night in the Tuesday Afternoon club house was the most successful ever held by representatives of the Associated Concrete Industries.

About 200 men connected with the marketing of concrete and allied building materials from various parts of Southern California attended the function. Large delegations were present from nearby communities.

R. E. Johnston, president of the association, acted as toastmaster.
He received many compliments
upon the manner in which he kept the program moving. He did not allow a dull moment to creep into the affair although it lasted until almost midnight.

The suspense was terrible.
The way the poor woman was suffering was awful—it was enough to wring the heart with
pity. The "help" stood around,
anxious to assist.

Soon the poor woman gathered
herself together and sputtered:

"Listen—listen!" she gasped.
"Oh, don't interrupt me—don't interrupt me, I say. I'm in trouble. I tried to telephone
you but somehow I couldn't get
central—and I ran all the
way."

The suspense was terrible.
The way the poor woman was
suffering was awful—it was
enough to wring the heart with
pity. The "help" stood around,
anxious to assist.

Entertainment features of the occasion were piano selections by Mrs. Willard Jackson of Los Angeles who also accompanied vocal numbers by D. Ripley Jackson which included "Sunrise and You,"
"Ten Thousand Years From Now,"
"The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," and "A Little Bit of Heaven."
Piano numbers included "Bolero"
by Farvergar and "Dance Creole"
by Chamindine.

Whether Alhambra or Glendale is the "fastest growing city in America" was the subject of an impromptu debate which was the cause of much amusement. C. N.
Reitzel of Seattle and C. C. Stanton of San Francisco were chosen as impartial judges. After hearing the argument, they became so confused that they became divided in opinion. The box of cigars,
factory."

POOR WOMAN WAS FRANTIC. BREATH CAME IN GASPS

The poor woman was frantic.
In fact, it was all the "help" could do to keep her from "cleaning" the office. Her face was flushed and her hair was all awry. She was a fit subject for pity.

From her home to the office of the Glendale Daily Press is almost a mile and she ran every step, and when she arrived she was "all in." Her breath came in gasps, and she sputtered and wheezed. It was just after the opening time and the chase in the brisk morning air
had served to develop a whistling sound to her voice.

"Listen—listen!" she gasped.
"Oh, don't interrupt me—don't interrupt me, I say. I'm in trouble. I tried to telephone
you but somehow I couldn't get
central—and I ran all the
way."

The suspense was terrible.
The way the poor woman was
suffering was awful—it was
enough to wring the heart with
pity. The "help" stood around,
anxious to assist.

Soon the poor woman gathered
herself together and sputtered:

"Take out that ad, for goodness sake; don't run that classified ad again. That house I advertised in your paper last night was rented before 6 o'clock and since that time those wanting to get it have almost driven me mad. I'll say those liners in the Daily Press
'do pull!'"

DR. FRED A. COOK OF ARCTIC FAME FOUND GUILTY

Twelve Other of the Defendants are Convicted

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 21.—
Dr. Frederick A. Cook, explorer and oil man, was found guilty by a federal court jury this afternoon of using the mails to defraud in the promotion of oil companies. He was found guilty on 12 of the counts in the indictment against him. The jury was out 20 hours.

GUILTY verdicts were also returned against all but one of the other defendants, though not on as many counts as Cook.

Dr. Cook first won fame as an Arctic explorer. He sought the north pole in an exploration fitted out by the Danish government a few years ago. He claimed to have found it and enjoyed unrivaled
fame for a few weeks when Peary,
the real discoverer exploded his claims.

It was found that the point
highest north reached by him was Mount McKinley, which is not even within the Arctic circle.

TUESDAY there was a meeting of the class representatives at Glendale high to decide upon the high school ring. The plan is to have one which will be worn only by seniors and graduates of the high school. The class representatives are Dante LaFranchi, senior; Richard Ryan, junior; Read Stearman, sophomore; and Marjorie Nelson,
freshman.

Plans are now being rushed forward for the Variety Show which will be given December 13 and 14.
Every class, department and student is cooperating to make the event a success. The fact that it will be the first entertainment held in the new high school auditorium is proving a great incentive. There was a meeting of the central committee yesterday. This committee is composed of Glenn Roberts,
chairman, Marjorie Nelson, Richard Ryan, Dante LaFranchi, Read Stearman, Ronald West. Class
tryouts, of which Mrs. Moyse and Mr. Ferguson are judges, will be held the fourth period on Thursday and department tryouts on Friday.
These tryouts will be judged by both the central and advisory committees. The advisory committee is composed of Mr. Brewster, Miss Shattuck, Mrs. Gibson, Mr.
Turrill and Miss Freeman. Mr.
and Mrs. Moyse and Mr. Ferguson are ex-officio members of both committees.

The freshman class has elected the following officers: Marjorie Nelson, president; Jeanette Yarbrough, vice-president and Louise Emeric, secretary-treasurer. The class has decided to have a girl's yell leader and a boy's yell leader.
Lois Strother was elected for the girls and Howard Rettingberg for the boys. Miss Elam and Mr. Miller were chairmen of the class advisors.

BURBANK SPEED
COURT ASSESSED

There were a good many violators of the traffic ordinance up before Judge Crawford yesterday at 2 p.m., all offering various excuses.
The violators and fines imposed are as follows: S. C. Carpenter, $10; F. W. Bunker, $10; C. R.
Clark, W. J. Hortenstien, $10; F.
Koerner, $10; W. A. Urian, $10; G.

and G. G. Durnell, C. D. Craig,

those who failed to appear, warrants were issued.

week are as follows: The heavyweights play San Bernardino at

'EXPLOSION' GETS FIRST PRIZE IN JOURNALISM

Glendale High School Paper Wins Merited
Honor

The staff of The Explosion, the school paper of Glendale High which is published weekly and printed in the job office of the Glendale Daily Press, is all puffed up with pride, and with good reason. Editorial assignments are more in request than ever. Why?
Because Lorin Scoville, editor-in-chief, was informed yesterday afternoon that the paper had been awarded first prize in the Southern California Journalistic contest, League B, in which were entered the newspapers of all High schools in that territory having an attendence of 1000 and under 1800. League
B was the class in which Glendale's school belonged when entrance was made, though at the present moment its enrollment is probably somewhat in excess of 1800.

Two issues were submitted two weeks ago. A meeting of the judges was held at Huntington Park last Friday at which all the newspaper candidates were carefully inspected and their merits assessed according to a scale of points, which took into account the amount of news contained in the journal, make-up, quality of work,
etc. One of the men whose vote gave the prize to The Explosion is on the staff of the Los Angeles Times and all are competent critics.

The prize is a two-column cut carrying the announcement that the paper is the prize winner of Southern California and this cut will be carried at the head of the editorial column of The Explosion in all subsequent issues during the next twelve months.

Lorin Scoville's associates on the staff of the paper are: Cecil Chase, assistant editor; Marie Griggs, associate editor; Evelyn Curren and Margaret Robinson,
news editors; Irvin Carver, boys'
sport editor; Emily Torchia, girls'
sport editor; Josephine Garland,
exchange editor; Tamson Johnson,
society editor; Margaret Schierholz, special writer. Members of the business staff are: Horace Anderson,
business manager; Fred Guerdat,
assistant business manager;
Golburn Danner, circulation manager; Robert Henderson, advertising manager; Don McMillan, Arden Gingery, Clifford Heppen, George Burroughs
and Harper Cobb.

NEW PACKARD WORTH $3000 TO BE GIVEN AWAY

A new 1924 Packard automobile worth $3,000 absolutely free! That's sounds kind of "fishy," but it is what the representatives of Crestview Manor are offering. Here is the proposition. There are 35 lots left in this beautiful subdivision, overlooking Glendale, and in order to get quick sale, a ticket will be given to each purchaser of a lot, which is good for one chance on this fine automobile. There are only 35 lots, which means that there will be the same number of chances, one of which will take the Packard. This is an excellent offer, due to the small number of chances, and it is only a matter of luck who the lucky person will be.

Crestview Manor is one of the choices of the Kenneth Road district subdivisions, being foothill property of the finest class. A splendid view of Glendale, Griffith Park and the entire San Fernando valley may be had from the property, which overlooks the beautiful Kenneth road. On clear days the old Pacific, with its outlying islands, may be plainly seen, which together with the excellent land view, makes an extremely beautiful panorama, unequalled in Glendale.

Building restrictions are $10,000 guaranteeing fine homes, to join those already built in making the Kenneth road district the most beautiful residential spot in the southland.

To reach the property, drive out Kenneth road to Ben Lomond drive, turning right to the end of the street. The property is being sold by Arthur Campbell, 110-A East Broadway, and the Wolter Realty company, 203 North Brand boulevard.

MEN'S CLASS OF CHRISTIAN S. S. TO MEET IN CHURCH
The monthly business meeting of the Men's class of Central Christian Bible school will meet tomorrow night at the church in the class room, instead of at O. L. Kilburn's where there is sickness in the family.

CENTRAL AVENUE FOLK MEET THURSDAY EVENING
The high school auditorium will be the scene of a lively meeting on Thursday night, when the Central Avenue Improvement association meets to discuss ways and means for the improvement of that important thoroughfare.

Charles B. Guthrie, president of the association, urges every Central avenue property owner to be present, and all others who are interested in the welfare of the west side of Glendale. A representative from the Glendale street department will be present to explain the proposed improvements, and answer any questions which may arise. The meeting starts promptly at eight o'clock.

EDUCATION WEEK IS OBSERVED BY TUESDAY CLUB

Education Week was observed at the regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club on November 20. One of the luncheon speakers was Richardson D. White, who gave a most interesting talk on education and illiteracy, telling how during the war it was found that 750,000 of the men in the service were illiterates. As a result, he stated, the American Legion, National Education association and bureau of education had called upon the president and requested the setting aside of American Education Week. Mr. White also told of some of the things that educators must combat.

Mrs. W. S. Stevens, chairman of conservation for Los Angeles district, urged conservation, particularly of the parks, forests and water ways. She said, "We are cutting down our wood five times as fast as we are planting it. In a few years it will be so scarce that prices will be almost prohibitive for building." Miss Douglas, who is associated with the Goodwill Industries of Los Angeles, was also a luncheon speaker. She told of how the clothing, etc., was salvaged and some very interesting samples of what can be done with small pieces of goods by workers at the industry, which is located at 342 North Main street. She said, "We not only salvage old clothing but also human lives."

The regular business session of the club was called at 2:30 by Mrs. Daniel Campbell. W. E. Hewitt, president of the Glendale Welfare Chest, gave a short talk, urging cooperation with the campaign. Mrs. Campbell announced that unless members of the club appreciate the privilege extended for community singing it will be discontinued. In order that members of the fine arts section may attend the meetings of the Bible section, arrangements have been made to have the former meet from 10 a.m. until 11:10 a.m. the first and third Tuesdays and the Bible section to meet the same days from 11:15 to 12:15.

There will be no afternoon meeting of the club next week. The club will convene in the evening, when members will be privileged to bring their husbands or escorts. A change has been made in the program for December 4. Instead of Miss Helen Frost, pianist, the program will include Miss Tilda Rohr, contralto, who has sang in the opera at Zurich. She will be accompanied by Mrs. H. R. Boyer.

The program for yesterday afternoon was most interesting and was given by Mrs. Anna Zelenko, who appeared in a Russian peasant costume. Her topic was "Russian Folk Art in Song, Dance and Ornament."

She said in part, "It is the peasants of Russia who are real artists. All Russian arts are based upon melodies of peasants' songs and all Russian dancing is taken from the private Russian people. The Russian peasants are artists by nature and there is no commercial idea behind it. Every province has its particular style of costume and its own type of dancing."

It was very interesting to many to learn that wood block printing, which is just beginning to come into favor in this country, is one of the oldest arts of Asia. In addition to that, the wonderful art of Batik has long been used by the peasants to transfer designs to Easter eggs.

Mrs. Zelenko told how some of the holidays are celebrated. She also had a most interesting collection of art need work, laces, etc., on display.

LECTURES TO BE GIVEN THIS WEEK AT BETHEL CHAPEL

FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED

The eldest son of Mrs. Edward Hoskyn, 234 North Jackson street celebrated his fiftieth birthday anniversary on Monday, November 19.

Mrs. Hoskyn, his mother, prepared the birthday dinner with her own hands and with no help. The dinner was served at 1 o'clock. The centerpiece was green and white carnations. As Mr. Hoskyn took his place at the table, his mother pinned on him a rosebud. One of his gifts was a gold piece in a small box hidden under his napkin. The box was tied with a blue ribbon. After the dinner was over, the birthday cake was brought in, holding 50 candles, all lighted.

The guests were Albert E. Hoskyn and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Hoskyn, also two cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stilman. A very delightful and jolly time was enjoyed by all.

Miss Winifred Rouze gave the first of her series of talks which will lead up to the Bible stories, telling of her recent trip to the Holy Land. Her topic was "The Land and the Book." Miss Rouze compared the conditions in that country today with Bible times. It was an intensely interesting session and proved to be full of inspiration for all who attended. The meetings of the Bible section are open not only to club members but to all others interested and are to be held at the club house the first and third Tuesdays of each month from 11:15 until 12:15 o'clock.

GIRLS' RALLY AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

A girls' rally will be held on Thursday evening from 6 to 7:30 at the First Christian church at Colrado and Louise streets under the auspices of the Glendale C. C. Club.

This meeting is open to all girls—business, High school and other girls.

The club, which was organized three years ago, has been directed by Miss Maud Soper, the well known high school teacher.

Owing to Miss Soper's many other duties, she has had to relinquish the work for the present, but did not do so until she had found a capable successor—in the person of Mrs. Frances L. Neth of Los Angeles, often called "The Mother of Girldom."

Mrs. Neth has had years of experience in dealing with the problems of girls and is now the director of the Corner club of Los Angeles, numbering nearly two thousand members.

Mrs. Neth will be in Glendale each Thursday, meeting with the C. C. girls and directing the work.

The Glendale club has recently been included in the Community chest budget, and will, no doubt, go forward with renewed vigor.

Reynold's room had won the flag for securing the enlistment of the largest number of mothers. As the goal set for the drive was 300, it will be continued for a few weeks longer.

Mrs. John Robert White, speaker of the afternoon made a talk on the community chest and readings were given by Jean Fitch, Margery Wheldon and Carl Finney. Mrs. Morgan contributed a vocal solo.

Today is Teachers' and Parents' Day at the school. A large number of visitors are expected and there will be a special program of games on the athletic field.

The Grand View Reading circle met Tuesday morning at the school and had a very profitable session followed by luncheon at the school, members remaining for the session of the P.T. A. in the afternoon, of which Mrs. Finney is president.

It was the time set for the completion of the membership drive. The reports showed that about 1200 had been enrolled and that Miss

This is the annual past masters' night of Unity Lodge No. 368 and there will be but one third degree conferred and then, Oh Boy! refreshments galore. Let's fill the hall with Scots and with our battle cry of 'When Do We Eat?' we'll put old Col. Hot Coffee and his squads of refreshments out of commission."

There will be reception committee to greet those who come and plenty to wait on those who have never visited Unity Lodge before. Your wants will be well taken care of. Don't be backward, Scots; let us all turn out and show them that we are real Masons and real boosters of the blue lodge.

Let us all turn out in a body this night, Scots, and show the Masons of Glendale that we practice what we preach. We boost the blue lodge.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR VISIT HOLLYWOOD COMMANDERY

Glendale's commander, Knights Templar, headed by Commander R. V. Hogue, was on Tuesday night the guest of the Hollywood commandery at a banquet served at 6:30. Many distinguished visiting knights were there from all parts of the United States—past commanders and past grand commanders, and the evening proved a wonderful fraternal and social occasion.

MONTROSE NOTES

At the last meeting of the board of trustees of the Crescents school district a ruling was made that all applications for the use of the Montrose and La Crescenta school auditorium must be written and sent or mailed to the principal, A. T. Blanford. These applications must also be accompanied by checks covering the charge for the use of the auditoriums. Requests will be acted upon by the board in the order of their priority.

"Business is good," says Mr. Young of the Montrose hardware and paint store. In fact the proprietor of the paint store is kept so busy that he has found it necessary to employ another clerk to help out. Mr. F. O. Ferris of La Crescenta is now with the store, having taken up his new work Tuesday. He was formerly employed in the city.

Funeral services for S. A. Sanders, who passed away Monday morning will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock from Utter's undertaking parlors in Los Angeles. The parlors are situated at 4254 Monita avenue. Interment will be in the Ingleside cemetery.

Thursday and Friday, November 29 and 30, will be holidays for the youngsters of the La Crescenta and Montrose schools; it has been announced by Mr. A. T. Blanford, principal.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL ITEMS

C. E. Von Oven announces that between now and the first of December he will sever his connection with Charles B. Guthrie after a business association of almost four years. It began at the Dorn and Brand office and included the opening of many branch offices at which he acted as salesman and general manager. Since the branch offices closed he has been connected with the main office at 110 West Broadway. He has not definitely decided what he will do but will probably open an office of his own in Glendale although he may continue to associate himself with some concern already established.

Mr. Van Oven has been a resident of Glendale for the past 12 years in practically the same neighborhood and two years ago built a pretty home at 317 West Maple. He has had opportunity to witness the expansion and civic development of the town. He has always been a booster and a consistent worker for its improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Cleghorn of 314 Mira Loma entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Melcher of McFarland Saturday evening at dinner at the Sunset Canyon Country club in Burbank. After dinner the party motored to Hollywood to see the "Covered Wagon." The Cleghorns are entertaining Friday evening at dinner in honor of their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Helman of Western avenue have motored to Ashland, Oregon, to visit Mr. Helman's mother. They expect to be gone two months visiting in the north. Mrs. Helman is the daughter of Mrs. Colton of 111 South Central avenue.

Miss Eva Atkinson who spent two years in China as a missionary sent out by Occidental college, was the week-end guest of Mrs. A. Beacock of 709 East Windsor road.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kells of San Francisco spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Barton of 801 East Elk.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

One of the pleasing social affairs of this week was the reception at the new community church last Monday evening when the pastor, Rev. H. A. Kelso, and members received their friends. A program of unusual merit was given during the evening by Essie Rose Allen, violinist; Miss Elizabeth Mottern, of Glendale, soloist; Miss Marguerite Hember, accompanist, and a clever reading by S. Bickel. The church was beautifully decorated in greenery and chrysanthemums. The refreshment table was presided over by Mrs. W. Hyman and Mrs. F. Fridley. Tomorrow evening Rev. Tinning, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Glendale will preach, and Friday evening, November 23, a benefit concert will be given under the direction of Mrs. Ethelwyn Weaver, Mrs. Alice Stockhold and Mrs. Ham Read.

Many tickets have been sold by the local Boy Scouts for their matinee picture show to be held at the school auditorium Thursday afternoon. "Dwellers of the Desert" is the title of the picture. Half of the proceeds of the entertainment will go to the local Boy Scouts' flag fund.

Mrs. Howard Reynolds of North Rosemont avenue entertained a group of relatives from Los Angeles for the week-end, including her mother, Mrs. E. A. Reeves, and Mrs. W. N. Slayden and Mrs. C. N. Green.

The La Crescenta Improvement association announces a dance for Saturday evening, December 1, at the school auditorium. The proceeds will be used for the upkeep of the local fire equipment.

FASHION CENTER IS PUTTING ON A HALF-PRICE SALE

The Fashion Center, 202 South Brand, is launching tomorrow morning a one-half price sale, lasting the remainder of the week. More than three hundred smart fall dresses are offered in this event, also two hundred hats and one hundred smart coats, all of which go at exactly one-half of the regular marked price, and the prices have not been altered in the least.

This is an annual November event at the Fashion Center, and is not in the form of a clearance, but just a good, old-fashioned half price sale. Several extra salespeople have been put on for the three days. The people are urged to shop on Thursday morning, to insure a complete stock and "avoid the rush."

EAGLE ROCK NOTES

The Dahlia Heights Parent-Teacher association will hold a very important meeting Friday afternoon for the purpose of voting on whether or not they wish to have a division in the state. At the present time the officers down here have to travel to the northern part of the state whenever there is a convention and as this is both a long and expensive journey the tenth district is having the members of its group vote on this question. Every member in the Dahlia Heights district is asked to come and be prepared to vote at 8:00 p. m. Friday.

A robbery was reported to the police early this morning at 2306 Adams. Mr. Bennings of the above address heard a prowler two different times between 2 and 4 a. m., at this time. However, he thought it was someone in the house who was looking for something to eat. When morning came it was discovered that the kitchen had been ransacked. Nothing of value was taken by the intruder.

Eagle Rock folks will be sorry to learn that Sergeant Level of the local police department is sick. Two days ago the doctor ordered him home, and it is hoped that he will soon be back.

Sergeant Cornwall, who has been sick for the last six weeks is getting better and is expected to be up again and moving within the next few days.

Miss Ida Uzzelle of South Pasadena, who was graduated from Occidental college last June, was killed in an automobile accident Monday evening. No details have been learned, but the entire student body family is deeply concerned.

The big bonfire rally of Occidental college is to take place in the local Greek theatre of the college. It will be Friday at 7:30 p. m. and will no doubt attract hundreds of people. This is an annual event for the game with Pomona college.

The Twentieth Century Women's club meets tomorrow afternoon in the club house. A very interesting program will be put on and this will again give the members a lovely afternoon.

Speaking of your close races—the Southern California conference pennant chase this season is the hottest and at the same time the closest race seen in these parts in many-a-moon. Three teams, Occidental, Pomona, and Caltech are tied for first honors at the present writing and but one more round of play remains. The games this Saturday bring Pomona and Occidental together at Claremont, while the Southern Branch meets Caltech at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena and Pasadena plays Whittier at the latter city.

The Occidental-Pomona clash will eliminate one of the two from the running. At present it looks as though Pomona would come out on top but you never can tell. If Caltech wins the tilt with the Cubs, as all indications seem to promise, the Engineers will be tied with the winner of the Oxy-Pomona game for first honors. If Pomona wins the last mentioned game the title will go to the Sagheens because of their win last year, but if Oxy wins then the tie will stand and no championship will be awarded. This is in accordance with the conference ruling that in the event of a tie the team winning the previous year, if one of the participants in the tie, gets the championship by virtue of its last year's record, but if the team that won the previous year is not in the tie then the tie remains and no championship is declared. If Caltech should lose to the Cubs, as might happen in the case of an upset such as occurred when the Technicians dropped to Whittier in their first game, then the title would go to the winner of the Pomona-Occidental title.

It is interesting to see the way these teams looked early in the season. Oxy was rated as the strongest team in the conference, and so proved until the Caltech eleven took them down the line a couple of weeks ago. Injuries have made the Tigers look like a rather crippled bunch at the present time. The Orange and Black gridirons have lived true to form in everything save their defeat at the hands of the Technicians.

Caltech was figured as the strongest rival the Tigers would have to meet in their chase for the pennant. Then in their first game of the season the Engineers dropped to Whittier by an 8 to 0 score. They have won all of their other games and pulled a big surprise when they upset Occidental. They threatened to defy the dope early in the season but came back and proved that they had been doped correctly, after all, and if anything, under rated.

Pomona proved to be the biggest surprise of all. Most of the team that won the pennant of 1922 had graduated and Coach Eugene Nixon was said to have little or nothing in the way of a footfall team. But

New Berkeley Stadium to Be Dedicated on Saturday

By HARRY M. BENNETT, JR.
(Press Staff Correspondent Exclusive Dispatch)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 21.—When Stanford defeated Idaho and California beat Washington last Saturday the pathway to the coast—the battle between Stanford and California next Saturday, at which time the new million-dollar Berkeley stadium will be dedicated and which will also put a fitting climax to a wonderful football season.

In the past four years the only question as to the outcome of the "big game" has been how high will California pile the score and how much fight will the Stanford team show. It is entirely different this year. The Cards have built up a corking good football team, and the betting is being done on who will win and not on what the

the Sagheens pulled a big surprise, and came through winning every game except the Caltech affair, which they lost after a hot battle. The Blue and White team has shown itself to be a real football aggregation, and has completely defied all the dopesters in the south to figure it out.

The other teams were accurately guessed. The Southern Branch and Redlands elevens have neither one proved dangerous. The only game the Bulldogs have won was from the Clubs, who have not copped a contest. Whittier was originally doled up. Later the Poets won a couple of practice games and then defeated Caltech, and promised to make the race interesting. But then the Poets flattered and all they could do after that was to beat the Cubs by a 14 to 12 score, and Bill Blewett felt as though he had been through a wringer. There wasn't a man on the team that again.

There is nothing so annoying or injurious as the constant grabbing of a clutch which has a tendency to loosen the mechanical parts from the resistor, the rear end, and the extremely unpleasant to the ones riding in the car. After this grabbing has taken place for a short time there is a likelihood of its tearing a whole rear end, which is an unnecessary expense if you will only realize the clutch of any car needs occasional attention. You will have a smooth road but positive action thereby saving yourself expensive repair bills and make riding a pleasure as the SO EASY makes a good clutch better. Manufactured by the

GLENDALE MEETS
SAN BERNARDINO
IN THE PLAYOFF

Glendale High school will enter into the football playoff for the Southern California championship this week, when the Dynamiters meet the San Bernardino eleven on the Chaffee High school field in Ontario. At the present time the date of the game is in doubt, but it will be on either Friday or Saturday, according to Coach Hayhurst. The lightweight team will play Covina to decide the championship on either Thursday or Friday on the Monroe field.

score will be. The game looks like a toss-up.

Stanford's varsity had a thorough trouncing against Idaho's formerly undefeated football team last Saturday and proved themselves. The Vandals are a strong combination, fast, resourceful, and give their runners first-class interference so Stanford showed up all the better.

There is now no more time to worry about the team, before the Cal mixup. Thursday and Friday will only go through light signal practice and handle the ball a little. The only man in doubt is Ernie Nevers, fullback, who was injured in last week's game.

While Ernie lasted he was one of the Card's mainstays, for all during the first quarter it was a continuous punting duel, the ball covering a distance of nearly 600 yards in this manner, while each team was trying to test out the strength of the others and to get a break. When Dwight went in to take Nevers' place he showed up poorly by comparison and it was a good thing for the Cards that Cuddeback was able to get back in the game to assume the punting responsibilities. The best punt was 53 yards by Nevers and the poorest was 23 yards by Fitzke of Idaho, though that was Fitzke's poorest, as he averaged 40 yards.

The California team was well hammered and pounded last week when it met the Huskies, who are now said to be the strongest yet of the list in the conference race and the Engineers are tied for first place, the game promises to be a "whiz" and if the Cards put up the same kind of fight against the C. I. T. outfit that they did against Oxy, the victory should be in doubt until the final whistle has blown.

The Engineers are a powerful squad and having proved to be the stumbling block for both Pomona and Occidental in their race for the championship. They took an early season defeat from the Whitman team under somewhat the same circumstances that the Cards were defeated, but have come back strong and are now rated as the strongest team in the conference.

The Cards have hit their stride again for the first time since the Whittier clash and are showing wonderful improvement with experience. While they do not say they are going to win Saturday, they are determined to put up a scrap that will keep the Engineers guessing. They showed good spirit in their light workout last night and, barring practice injuries, they should be in top shape for the Pasadena fracas.

didn't know he had been through a hard battle. Stew Bean lost 12 pounds during the contest, but the boys are all young and a few days' rest will put them all up to par again.

It is indeed a mean man who will not add to a woman's happiness by telling her she is good looking.

It promises to be a big day with some of the country's foremost baseball men present. Among them will be Frank Chance, Fred Clarke, Bill Essick, Frank Isbell, Marty Krug, Bob and "Irish" Meusel, Howard Emmons and Fred Haney. When such men as these go out to see a semi-pro ball game and the opening of a park, it is sure to be that the park for the opening bat.

AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL WEEK

NEED PHYSICAL EDUCATION FOR YOUR CHILDREN

Thirty-two states have adopted a physical education program and others are preparing to do so. This is not a new wrinkle orfad, since physical education is the survivor of many centuries.

The ancient Greeks divided their subjects of study into music and gymnastics. Each youth was trained in the gymnasium. The heroes of Greek literature were those who received the olive crown as the winner of some event in the Olympic games. The passage of time was even marked by these games, every fourth year being an Olympiad.

Physical education is necessarily an integral part of general education. The whole child goes to school, both body and mind. The American public school has until recently tried to develop the mind of the individual without thought of the body. The modern physical education program calls for games for all—for games which call into play the fundamental muscle groups involved in running, jumping, throwing and climbing; all form a large part of the program. Story games, rhythmic-action plays, and running games for the very tiny tots; folk dancing and stimulating mass drills for the older children are the tools with which the teacher has to work.

Physical education also concerns itself with those muscle groups which hold the body in an erect position. The close relation between self-respect and posture is familiar to all of us. Physical education through games makes for the social and moral development of the child. The playground knows no race, class or social distinction. The best man for the position is the one chosen. Recognition and acknowledgment of the rights of others must be observed in all teamwork. Cooperation and teamwork are synonymous. Where but on the play field does the child learn the elements of true sportsmanship? The successful team is the one in which all the members are working together in close cooperation.

Furthermore, the physical education program concerns itself with the health of the child. It centers the attention on positive health habits. Physical activity focuses the attention of the child on physical condition from the constructive standpoint rather than from the morbid side. Thus health education becomes an ever-present element in physical education.

Physical education is then that phase of education which concerns itself with the growth and development of the child. It aims to promote good health and those social and moral qualities that make for good citizenship.

Other countries have taken national action to extend physical education to their children.

Are we going to do less? It depends on YOU.

We are leaving these questions with you:

Are the average boys and girls of today pictures of perfect health? Are they resourceful? Do they seek to be entertained? Are they provided with adequate and worthwhile occupations for leisure hours? Are we providing adequate opportunity for the promotion of these opportunities?

THE LITTLE BLUE JUG Eleanor Edwards

Wilson Ave. School, B-8
What is an ancient relic it was, that queer little blue jug with its strange engravings of serpents that seemed ready to spring! However it may not seem so queer when first you know from whence it came. My uncle was one of the men to explore King Tut's tomb with the late Lord Carnarvon. In the chamber where lay King Tut himself this little jug was found. So thinking it would please it. To us it made sense it. To gaze at it made me shiver as I thought of the curse that might be upon it.

Then one day a catastrophe happened. Mother was having company and I was ordered to set the table. Carefully I took down all our best crockery but when I came to the water jug it was not there.

What should I do. We had plenty of others but they were not suitable. Then I thought of the little blue jug. How pretty it would look standing amidst the common crockery of today! I went to the glass cabinet, where standing in its stately way between two ancient candlesticks, was the little blue jug.

Was it true, or was it my imagination? When I attempted to lift it, it seemed to resist. At first I was frightened, but still it was only a harmless jug. Again I made the attempt and this time with a little force. To my amazement I held in my hand a delicate piece of blue china and the remainder of the jug was on the floor. Indeed the vessel that had held the wine of the Pharaohs would now never stoop to hold water for my mother's guests. Then I was frightened for I thought of Egypt, her pyramids, and the curse of King Tut's tomb. Yet I should try to mend it! But well I knew that it was not King Tut's wish that it should be mended. Then having nothing else I put a plain white one on the table.

After the guests had stopped, talked, and gone I made known the sad ending of the little blue jug. Well, I will leave the rest to your imagination and only say that my thoughts were true, for King Tut's curse had indeed rested on the little blue jug.

SAFETY FIRST Portia Little

Glendale Ave. School, B-8

The average attention given the subject, "Safety First," is absolutely unequal to the importance of this issue. A very good example of unsafe first is found at any important crossing during the busy noon hour. One sees an excited traffic officer wildly waving his arms, while an agitated pedestrian leaps on tiptoe across the street, in front of the overflow of automobiles. Traffic on the whole though is very well governed.

Policemen are employed to see that no one disobeys the traffic rules and they do not get pleasure in arresting people for doing what is wrong. But were it not for policemen our nation would be weak, lawless and not the law-abiding twentienth century invention, the automobile, is the central figure of the Safety First movement. In every newspaper there are many accounts of tragedies that could have been prevented by keeping in mind the rules of Safety First. A collision, a wreck, the sound of swift moving wheels coming to a sudden stop on wet pavement, the smell of burning brakes and the death toll is taken again.

This is the Motor Age, and that

Gradually, though, Safety First policies are gaining approval, as the recently passed laws of the states prove. City councils, too, are enacting ordinances, with severe penalties for reckless driving.

The rising generation should be, figuratively speaking, stuffed with the great importance of Safety First, and respect for our country's laws. Eventually, if not now, the American people will see the folly of such a course. Safety First is not permanent, but beautifies that permanence.

"We are living in a new age with a chance to express ourselves in a new way!" he exclaimed. "To my mind concrete is a sort of symbol. Do you realize that you can't get a good job out of concrete unless everybody connected with it does his job well?" A perfect concrete building stands as a symbol of service."

Some of the problems connected with the Los Angeles outfall sewer were explained by its engineer, H. A. Van Norman.

"The expectation is that the outfall sewer will be in operation next September," he asserted. "Different sections have been divided up into units so that, with a reasonable rate of progress on each section, the system should be completed by that time. Material contracts have been partially let and other bids are before us for consideration.

My office finished work today upon all remaining sections of the sewer. The capacity of the population of about 3,000,000.

"Architectural Concrete Stone" was the subject of a paper read by Frank M. Brooks, vice-president of the Art Concrete Works of Pasadena.

"While architectural concrete stone is not a new building material," he said, "it has only recently come to be preferred over any other building face with the exception of the finest natural stone. There are now in construction in Southern California many concrete stone buildings ranging in value from $20,000 to $31,000. The exterior of one church is almost entirely concrete stone. Ashland, with a total valuation of possibly $75,000.

Problems connected with the construction of the Palace of Liberal Arts in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, which is to be a memorial to the American Legion, were outlined by A. O. Malone, president of the California Stone Products Corporation, Los Angeles.

"Concrete," he stated, "is one of the best possible building materials."

Felicitations on the occasion were expressed by Burton Bunch, secretary-manager of the Associated Concrete Industries.

The Glendale city administration was represented at the banquet by City Manager W. H. Reeves, City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy, Peter Derdeich, superintendent of the public service department, City Clerk A. J. Van Wie, also H. C. Van De Water and Fred Nicolaus of the building department.

The chamber of commerce was represented by Jesse E. Smith, George Bendey, P. J. Hayesden, A. R. Eastman, Dan Campbell, W. E. Hewitt and C. D. Lusby.

Other Glendaleans present as guests included E. F. Heisser, C. C. Coglin, Norton, P. Buck, George M. Lindsey, Paul Butterfield, J. C. May and W. H. Hellman, Henry Molz, W. J. Curran, Arthur J. Fryer and Charles Cressey.

The menu, which consisted of baked Virginia ham and trimmings, was served under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Dow of 650 North Kentwood street and members of her son committee.

An added feature of the entertainment was the singing, first by the guests and then by Toastmaster R. E. Johnston to the tune of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean" of "Nothing but Concrete."

"The Pittsburgh Paving Tests," in which a number of different combinations of pavements were tested out scientifically, were illustrated by moving picture films. These were explained by Lloyd Aldrich of Los Angeles, consulting highway engineer, who had charge of this experiment. He reported that "unsurfaced concrete completely resists all surface wear due to solid-tired traffic."

A short but much-applauded speech was made by James C. Hanley, sales manager of the nation that it is supposed to be.

If we would observe the rules of safety, the little every day habits as well as the larger ones, then the coming generation would be much safer than it has been. We shouldn't think of only our own safety but of others. If we do this our nation will be safer for every one.

When they reached the foot of the stairs they heard a low but distinct moan. Hair standing on end, the boys hunted their way out of the empty house and began to run home as fast as they could go with a tall dark form flying after them.

"Oh!" groaned one, "if I were only at home!"

"Get out of bed this very minute," he heard his mother call. "It's almost seven o'clock."

"Gee!" he said rubbing his eyes, it was only a dream after all."

SAFETY FIRST Beth Patterson Glendale Ave. School, B-8

Harold Loy's motto was "Safety Last but our motto should be "Safety First." If everyone is careless himself and doesn't regard the safety of others where would the sum of the death toll from accidents be? More people have been killed and injured through unintentionally carelessness than those who really want to be reckless and care nothing for our laws. Those are the people who hinder the progress of our nation through their selfishness.

And when should we apply our knowledge of safety rules? The day after we have read them? No! We should be careful always.

We have broken worse habits so we should start right now to form habits that save more lives, prevent more accidents and cause much less worry.

Policemen are employed to see that no one disobeys the traffic rules and they do not get pleasure in arresting people for doing what is wrong. But were it not for policemen our nation would be weak, lawless and not the law-abiding

AT THE THEATERS

BUFFALO BILL SHINING HERO TO YOUNG TOM MIX

During a chat with the editor of an eastern paper recently Tom Mix, who is now appearing at the Glendale theater in his new William Fox production, "Soft Boiled," told how he happened to break into the movies.

"As a boy in the southwest I saw Buffalo Bill do sharpshooting in the circus ring. I was a crack shot for a youngster, and on getting home tried out shooting glass balls from the top of my little sister's head. That went fine. Then I tried knife-throwing as I saw it at the circus. Dad arrived while I was trying to get the range on the woodshed against which sister stood. You should have heard Dad broadcasting his favorite heir from the woodshed."

"I have always remembered the impression Buffalo Bill and father made on me and in the pictures my main thought is not to leave some scar, some false impression or wrong idea in the minds of the boys and girls who see Tom Mix represent the spirit of the west. Rather, I want them to see that in my pictures the character I play gets ahead by being square and fighting for the right."

EAST SIDE, WEST SIDE, CARRIES A STRONG APPEAL

Any story which features a sharp contrast of the East side and the West side of New York; the difference in the social spheres of products of these two sections, is certain to unfold a highly interesting plot which tugs at the emotions and enlists a deal of sympathy for its central figures.

The human appeal comes from the struggles of a young girl to keep her head up—to keep smiling in the face of adversity. She has much to contend with—has Lory James. Yet she keeps faith with herself—with her ideals.

"East Side, West Side" shows this human interest; emphasizes it in a manner which will be understood by all.

In the supporting cast are two of the most popular and talented players on the screen. Eileen Percy and Kenneth Harlan contribute performances which will be long remembered. It will be the feature offering on the program of the T. D. and L. theater again tomorrow, with good vaudeville.

VIVACIOUS MAE MURRAY STARS AT THE GATEWAY

Mae Murray, vivacious Metro star, a few days ago lost the key to a great antique desk, a family heirloom, in which she keeps some highly prized gown designs. Miss Murray is very solicitous about the desk and its contents and her servants are warned not to touch it. When she found the key, after an almost breathless search, she recalled a previous occasion when she had lost it.

"I knew that my maid had a large bunch of keys," Miss Murray related, "so I called to her: 'Marie, I've lost the key to my desk. Will you bring me that bunch you have? Perhaps I can find one to fit it.'

"Oh, no, Madame," Marie replied, "there's no need of that. Not one will fit. I tried them all long ago."
